

Republican Candidates, Dickinson County

For President, CHARLES E. HUGHES

For Governor, ARTHUR CAPPER

For Congressman, CHARLES M. HARGER, a Dickinson County man who has always boosted Dickinson and who has stood for the good things in government

CONGRESSMAN, 5TH DISTRICT C. M. Harger, Abilene

Governor Capper says: "I congratulate the people of the Fifth district upon the opportunity they have to send a congressman to Washington who believes thoroughly in the Hughes program—the Republican program—and who will vote and work to carry it through. Charles M. Harger measures up in every particular to the stature of a congressman. He is a successful business man; he knows the people of his district thoroughly; he knows and appreciates their needs and he is qualified in every way to represent them at Washington. He was chairman of the State Board of Corrections, one of the most important departments of the state government, during the first year and a half of my administration, and I am glad to say that he rendered the state exceptionally valuable service in that capacity. I was intimately associated with him during that time and found him to be a man who places the very highest value upon the duty of a public servant to those he is chosen to serve. It is a pleasure to me to commend him most heartily to the people of this district and I earnestly hope they will send him to Washington as their representative."

REPRESENTATIVE J. T. Sellards, Solomon

In naming Mr. Sellards, the Republicans have selected a man who will be a credit to Dickinson county in the next legislature. He is a successful farmer and businessman and his wide experience will be of much value in legislative affairs. He will be found on the job every minute and every interest affecting this county will have his earnest attention. It is a credit to the county that he is willing to give it of his services and a big majority should be for him.

COUNTY TREASURER Newton Cole, Herington

The voters of Dickinson county have invariably conceded a second term to its officials if their duty has been well performed. This is what Mr. Cole is asking and will doubtless receive. This is one of the important offices at the court house as here all taxes are paid and properly distributed and to safeguard against errors, the treasurer must be a No. 1 accountant. Mr. Cole has filled the office for the past year with fidelity and accuracy, and it is only fair that he should be given a second term.

DISTRICT CLERK L. E. Jeffcoat, Abilene

"How large will be his majority?" is the only question regarding the candidacy of Gene Jeffcoat for clerk of the district court. He has grown up here and has occupied several positions with honor and trust. Always accommodating, always willing to do his best, he will make a model clerk. He served as deputy sheriff for several years and was noted for his accuracy and devotion to duty. His big majority in November will show a popularity that will be a surprise even to his friends.

PROBATE JUDGE John C. Royer, Abilene

The office of probate judge has many intricate legal problems to solve and it has long been recognized that this office should be filled by an attorney. In the handling of estates and in juvenile court cases John C. Royer will make an ideal judge. He is a man of ability and wide experience and will make the work of the court much easier for those having business with it. You will receive courteous treatment and a "square deal" every time when the probate judge's office is filled by John C. Royer, as it will be after next January. Vote for him.

REGISTER OF DEEDS J. L. Worley, Abilene

The Republicans have never nominated a more competent man for this office than J. L. Worley. He has been city clerk of Abilene for several years and his work in connection with the water department which involves much detail work has been handled with accuracy and fidelity. He is the only old soldier candidate on any ticket and has hosts of friends over the county who are giving him loyal support. Mr. Worley has been a resident of Abilene for many years and is in every way well qualified to fill the office with credit.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT Gracie Woolverton, Abilene

The Republicans have always been fortunate in their selection of a candidate for county superintendent and this year is no exception to the rule. Gracie Woolverton knows the needs of the rural schools, has been a successful teacher in them, and has the ability in every way to fill the position. She is now serving in that capacity by appointment with conspicuous ability and the voters will make no mistake by continuing her in the office. She commands respect and her executive ability is recognized everywhere she visits schools.

SHERIFF

D. W. Nail, Herington

Experience in executive affairs and unflinching courage are two of the strong elements in the candidacy of D. W. Nail for sheriff. He has been "tried" in many walks of life and has proven himself up to the standard in every way. He came to this county 40 years ago and probably knows more people than any other one person. Kindness, good nature and good deeds are big assets and Dave Nail will never be forgotten by thousands of people to whom he has brought cheer and comfort. He never goes back on a friend and his word is as good as a bond. In the sheriff's office he will continue his good works. Herington will give him an overwhelming vote.

COUNTY CLERK H. W. King, Abilene

If courtesy and accommodation count for anything, H. W. King will be elected by a rousing majority. More people probably have dealings with this office than with any other at the court house, and Mr. King is ably assisted by Mrs. King, and every inquiry or want is promptly attended to. It takes years of training to properly keep the records of the county clerk's office, and the voters are more than satisfied with the manner in which Mr. King has conducted affairs as is evidenced by the increased majorities they have always given him.

CORONER

J. A. Tufts, Abilene

Most people think the duties of the coroner are not very exacting, but there are occasions when it becomes an important office. The Republicans have selected J. A. Tufts to be the next coroner and that he will be elected naturally follows. He can be depended upon to do his full duty in every crisis.

and no mistake will be made in giving him your vote.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

J. B. Hostetter, First District
H. C. Brenizer, Second District
John Book, Third District

The board of county commissioners has the running of the affairs of the entire county and only men of known business ability should be selected as its members. The Republicans have nominated three exceptionally strong men in their respective communities. Men who have made a success of their own affairs, have been honored by their local people in many ways and will bring to their new duties ripe judgment combined with earnestness and ability.

Mr. Hostetter has served on the board for the past year, being appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of B. D. Fry. His services should not be dispensed with as he is the only candidate having a working knowledge of the county's business. He is a successful farmer of Hope township, is particularly strong in his own neighborhood, and will poll a big vote all over the district.

Harry C. Brenizer is well equipped to make a model commissioner. He has lived in Dickinson nearly all his life and has made a success of his own affairs. He owns one of the best improved farms in Grant township, is wideawake, honest and fair minded, and will bring to the county's service the best kind of training-experience.

John Book is one of the jovial farmers of the Talmage neighborhood, big hearted, honest, clean of character and successful, he will make a commissioner of whom the Third district can be proud. He has been honored frequently by his neighbors with positions of honor and trust and has always filled them with satisfaction. The district will make no mistake by electing him commissioner.

STATE SENATOR

W. H. Myers, Wakefield

It was Clay county's turn to name the Republican candidate for this important office, and W. H. Myers was chosen. He is one of the substantial businessmen of Wakefield, owning large farm and stock interests. His neighbors speak in the highest terms of his honesty and integrity and the voters of this county can rest assured that no "pork barrel jobs" will be pulled off with his knowledge or assistance. Let's make his election unanimous.

The citizens of Dickinson County should give these candidates their support and they will find that they will receive in return sincere and efficient service every day in the year.

REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

MARRIED AT MIDNIGHT

Miss Ruth Maring and Herb Eicholtz
Married July 12

A moonlight romance came out into the sunlight this morning when Mr. Herbert K. Eicholtz and his wife, formerly Miss Ruth Maring of Buckeye started on a somewhat delayed wedding trip to the eastern cities and winter resorts. They were married July 12, 1916, at "high noon of the full moon" in the cemetery. It was a quiet wedding in the full sense of the term. So quiet indeed that not even a murmur of it seems to have awakened the young crowd, who certainly owed Herb some attention in such matters and doubtless they would have paid in full with interest if they had caught on to the event in proper time.

This was an unusual sort of a wedding. They stood on the highest

"Goodnight Corns! We Use 'Gets-It!'"

3 Drops in 2 Seconds. That's All.
"GETS-IT" Does the Rest.
Never Fails.

"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can find to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a package that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it? "GETS-IT" is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comes off. Millions use nothing else. "GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere. It's a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Abilene and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Troup & Leonard and C. E. Northcraft & Co., J. M. Gleason & Son.

knoll amid the thickest of the shrubbery in the heart of the cemetery, the minister using a granite monument for an altar; the decorations being the full blown flowers and the stately cedars of that beautiful spot. Maybe someone will think it was not a solemn occasion. No wonder it never got out for the friends up there can be trusted implicitly. They tell no tales; betray no secrets. After all, one's dearest friends and most trusted companions are up there.

But the only one who was not a little shaky was the bride, and she could afford to be cool. She was dressed in pure white, a wealth of golden moonbeams fell about her and all the stars of a cloudless sky diademed her head with sparkling beauty. Only a poet or a youthful lover could do that scene justice so the writer falls. Of course the groom felt so much at home up there that he behaved like a model. His excuse for selecting the location was that he had long wanted to make one happy trip to the dear old place while he could enjoy it. Evidently there are no ghosts in the realm of lovers, only fairies, at least there was not a shiver in the fair hand of the kneeling bride, uplifted to receive the ring, or in the big hand that calmly placed it where it belongs forever. The stir of congratulations awakened a mocking bird who sang a wonderful benediction of marvelous song. It was beautiful.

The wedding party sat and visited awhile, took an auto ride about the sleeping city, the minister was let out at the parsonage and the happy couple went out to Buckeye to receive a parental blessing and an early breakfast, and then they returned to their occupations, waiting for the secret to leak out. But the minister and the probate judge agreed to make the groom tell on himself. The effort to keep mum nearly killed him but he was game and kept on smiling until "the directory man" suddenly asked him, "married or single?" he was too honest to prevaricate easily; he hesitated a moment, blushed and the leak was started. Dr. Blayney and Judge Tappen hold that he lost and claim the first supper after the couple return about Nov. 1st to make their home with Mrs. W. H. Eicholtz at 406 West Third street, Abilene where the young crowd after admitting they are a little slow on current events will likely make up for lost time in wishing them a long and happy life. Everybody loves Herbert but he will not be in it when they come to know his bride and discover her worth.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL TEAM TAKES ANOTHER GAME

[From Saturday's Daily.]

The high school football team romped on the Lost Springs team yesterday to the tune of 25-13. It took Abilene but two minutes and a half to put over her first touchdown. The visitors used straight football entirely and made their two touchdowns through the Abilene line. Abilene outweighed her opponents somewhat but could not entirely withstand the attacks of their fighting back field.

The local team used the forward pass to good advantage and made two touchdowns by the aerial route. The line plunging of Steele and Van Doren was responsible for many big gains through the Lost Springs line. For the visitors McNickle was the best ground gainer while Steele, the local fullback, played a brilliant offensive game for Abilene. Robson was a tower of strength on defense and Romberger piloted his team well.

Next week Manhattan will be here for a game with the local team.

HELP FOR WORKING WOMEN

Some Have to Keep on Until They Almost Drop. How Mrs. Conley Got Help.

Here is a letter from a woman who had to work, but was too weak and suffered too much to continue. How she regained health:—

Frankfort, Ky.:—"I suffered so much with female weakness that I could not do my own work, had to hire it done."

I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I tried it. I took three bottles and I found it to be all you claim. Now I feel as well as ever I did and am able to do all my own work again. I recommend it to any woman suffering from female weakness. You may publish my letter if you wish."—Mrs. JAMES CONLEY, 516 St. Clair St., Frankfort, Ky.

DO YOU WANT A CONGRESSMAN FROM THIS COUNTY

We have never had one. Each former congressman has come from the other counties. This time we have a candidate in Charles M. Harger of Abilene, our friend and neighbor. For 30 years Mr. Harger has fought the battle for his friends. He has never before asked for your support. His life's energy has been spent in assisting to build up this state and he has used barrels of ink for the betterment of Dickinson county. His honesty and integrity are above reproach. We should feel safe in being represented in Washington by C. M. Harger.—Solomon Tribune.
